

The Food Film Fest and CNN Original Series Presents:

The World Premiere of Anthony Bourdain: Parts Unknown / Chicago

April 27th, 2016

BENEFITING THE GOOD FOOD PROJECT

The Food Film Festival is coming back to Chicago for a one-night-only event! The Food Film Festival and CNN invite you to come Taste What You See on The Screen™ in this special world premiere of the Chicago Episode of Anthony Bourdain: Parts Unknown before it airs on CNN. The Fest is bringing you TV in a way you've never seen it before -- by pairing one of CNN's greatest food-oriented travel shows with The Food Film Fest's signature Taste What You See on the Screen™ experience! From Bruce Cameron Elliot's remarkable artwork to Sze Chuan Cuisine's firey flavors, this is an evening you won't want to miss. Special dishes by Sze Chuan Cuisine, hand-picked by Chef Stephanie Izard and Chef Peter Wong. Beer will be provided by Begyle Brewing Co.

Everyone featured in the episode has been invited to attend. Anthony Bourdain has sent a video greeting as he will be on location out of the country.

About the episode: Chicago's iconic Old Town Ale House and its colorful patrons are the gateway to Bourdain's tour of the "City by the Lake," which includes the host dining on breaded steak sandwiches at Ricobene's with music producer Steve Albini, sampling Mapo Doufu at Chinatown's Sze Chuan with Chef Stephanie Izard, and a home cooked meal with Chicago-raised rapper Lupe Fiasco and his mom, plus a tour of comedy mecca Second City with mainstage performer Paul Jurewicz.

The Food Film Festival™ returns to Chicago at Begyle Brewery, with this special, one-night only event. In its tenth year, the Food Film Festival, created, directed, and hosted by George Motz, Travel Channel personality and food filmmaker, is an unexpectedly delightful night of viewing and tasting. The Food Film Festival is the only film festival of its kind, where guests get to taste what they see on the screen as they watch.

Be sure to watch new episodes of Anthony Bourdain: Parts Unknown every Sunday at 9pm on CNN.
